Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of Species I, claim 1, represented in figure 2, in Paper No. 5 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).
2. Claims 2 – 9 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 5.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Aoki et al. (JPPAT 07036061A, Aoki).

Art Unit: 2815

Aoki discloses in figures 1 – 3 a liquid crystal (LCD) device comprising a TFT panel, a counter panel and liquid crystal disposed therebetween. Aoki discloses in figures 1 – 3 a transparent substrate (10). Aoki discloses in figures 1 – 3 a plurality of scanning lines (1) overlaying the transparent substrate to extend in a row direction. Aoki discloses in figures 1 – 3 a plurality of signal lines (2) overlying the transparent substrate to extend in a column direction. Aoki discloses in figures 1 – 3 a plurality of common lines (5) each corresponding to one of the scanning lines to extend in the row direction parallel to the one of the scanning lines, the scanning lines and the common lines are formed in a single layer (11). Aoki discloses in figures 1 – 3 an array of pixels each disposed at an intersection between one of the scanning lines and one of the signal lines, the common lines having extending portions (H) extending outside an area fore the array of pixels. Aoki discloses in figures 1 – 3 a coupling line (7) coupling the extending portions together and formed in the single layer, the coupling line connecting the common lines.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed September 5, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

6. With regard to the applicant's argument that "Aoki (abstract) clearly recites that the common lines are reference #7, and that reference #5 are the capacitance lines," it should be noted that names given by Aoki are not necessarily defining the same names as those given by the claims. In fact, Aoki's common line (7) directly relates to the claimed coupling lines, while

Aoki's capacitance line (5) directly relates to the claimed common line. The claim defines the element structurally. These structural definitions are what the rejection is based upon. The simple difference in names does not patently define the claims over Aoki. Therefore, applicant's arguments are not persuasive, and the rejection is proper.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
